Reflective Practice and Parallel Process in Clinical Supervision
This 1-day workshop for allied health professionals and psychologists covers theory and practice in implementing a reflective practice framework within a competency based supervision model of practice. Participants will develop meta-competencies for setting up, facilitating and evaluating supervisee reflectivity in practice. Participants will learn the process of dialogical reflectivity using the micro skills of immediacy and parallel process as strategies to facilitate engagement, reflexivity and supervisee relational competence. The workshop will assume supervisors already have the foundational core competencies of establishing a competency based framework for supervision. Pre-reading resources are provided, including revision documents of competency based supervision. For psychologists with AHPRA registration, participants can apply for Master class supervisor accreditation by completing this workshop. Places strictly limited.

ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

Christine Senediak is an Australian accredited (AHPRA) supervisor trainer and supervisor with over 35 years of clinical, education and supervisory experience. She supervises widely providing individual, peer, group and organisational supervision to psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers and other health clinicians working in child and adolescent and family services, schools, adult mental health, drug health, gambling, sexual assault, cross cultural and trauma services.

She divides her time between education, clinical work and supervision. Christine employs a competency-based and reflective practice approach to supervision, enhancing self-awareness of relational issues between therapist, client and systems. Christine incorporates elements of systemic, cognitive behavioural, mindfulness and person-centered therapies in supervision and training.

Sam Vasta has worked in public community mental health services for over thirty years as a senior clinician and Service Manager. He has a wealth of clinical experience and supervision practice in a range of service settings ranging from young people experiencing first episode psychosis to consumers facing the challenges of recovery in the context of persistent and enduring mental illness. As a Service Manager, Sam has supervised various practitioners and team leaders often involving complex clinical scenarios. He has experience and has taught on topics including cross cultural mental health practice, managing trauma from major critical incidents and ethical dilemmas in risk management.
